

Loving God, You are the Source from which the spiritual world arises.

You are the Universal Creator!

Transcendent Spirit!

And Intimate Companion who seeks to come alive within the scope of each of our lives.

We have found You when we did not expect you to arrive.

We have wondered where You are when terrible things happen.

We doubt!

We hope!

We think there must be some way to bend You to our will.

And then we are disappointed, because You send us in some other direction or stop us in our tracks when we are determined to take a certain path.

We admit our limited vision.

We acknowledge our short attention span when it comes to paying attention to you amidst all the activities of our days and nights.

We know we worry about stuff that You would prefer we left in Your hands.

Have patience with us.

We're not awake as much as we need to be.

Wake us up to our own deeper needs and to the needs of our brother and sister humans, animals, trees, rocks, flowers.

If we can't wake up by our own power, give us glimpses of Your created beauty that we can't ignore.

And when we run out of wisdom in our own affairs, remind us of an idea or two of Jesus' so that we can get back on track.

And thank you for being here with us to listen.....and to be.....Our Father.....

Morning Prayer, Sept 22, 2019

